OVERPROOF
- RUM -

Mauritius is a beautiful tropical island tucked away in the Indian Ocean. It's famous for the now extinct dodo and renowned as a popular paradise destination for honeymooners and pleasure seekers alike. It was first colonised by the Dutch in the Seventeenth Century who were keen to exploit the many natural commodities on the island and were also the first to plant sugar cane. When the Dutch left the French moved in and the sugar cane industry thrived. The French were followed by the British with the island finally gaining independence in 1968. And as any rum aficionado knows – where there's cane there's rum!

For many years Green Island Superior Light Rum has been the iconic rum of the island and it is with this in mind that Green Island (UK) Ltd has produced a strictly limited 151 overproof edition. With only 2400 bottles being produced each bottle is individually numbered. The rum is made from molasses and is put through a four column still. The final product is a blend of up to 5 year old, oak aged rums which have undergone charcoal filtration to remove the straw colour gained from the ageing process. The character and complexity of the 151 is true to the Superior Light with notes of aniseed, mint, grass and vanilla just being a few of the many hints and flavours to be found in Green Island Rum.
